

Acts to Revelation

Lesson 25

Name:

	Read II Corinthians 5 1. In chapter 5, Paul continues his thoughts about temporal versus eternal things. He calls this life a tent which you set up for a day, then take down and move. He says, "if our earthly house of this (tent) were dissolved, we have a building of God, a house not made with, eternal in the heavens. Can you say this by faith? Our life is compared to many things in the scriptures: 1) James 4: 14 =
	; 2) Psalm 103: 15 = 3) I Peter 1: 24
2.	Our house (body) will be destroyed one day, but Paul groans, desiring to be upon with our house, which is from
	In his groanings, Paul desires to be from the body to be with the LORD.
3.	Paul is content to be on earth (not his home), till he is called to his heavenly home. So, wherever he works, the most important thing Paul wants is to be of Him (II Cor. 5: 9). This is often reversed in modern Christianity. People think that accepting Christ makes them fit for heaven, but only when He accepts us (through being bought with his own blood) can we know a place is prepared for us in heaven.
1	To this end Paul reminds us that we must all appear before the
ᅻ.	of Christ. We will receive the things done in our body, according as we have done, whether or
	That "day of all days" will be a day of
	for the wicked, therefore Paul says he men (in preaching). Paul is constrained by the
	of Christ (II Cor. 5: 10-15).
5.	What does a new believer experience in salvation (being in Christ)?
	(II Cor. 5: 17). God in Christ continues to the world unto himself, "not imputing their to them." (God imputes these sins to Christ and _	gives the believer his righteousness). Impute = to ascribe or attribute to.
o.	Paul implores everyone that reads this letter to be to God. Then Paul explains this imputation:
	"For he hath made him (Christ) to be for us (sin of 1 of the flath flate fifth (Christ) to be for us (shi of the	sinner	imputed	to	Christ)	who	knew	no	sin;	that	we	might	be	made	the

					of Go	od in h	im (right	eous	ness	of Chr	ist i	mpute	d to the	sinner)	" (II Cor.	5:	20.21).									•

			7.	In	Chapter	6,	Paul	hastens	to	warn,

Ministers are called to bring the message "you must repent and be converted." What does that mean? (Lords Day 33) The converted experientially know:

- 1. A sincere, holy war between two natures: There is a genuine on-going struggle between the old and new man. The closer one gets to God and His holiness, the more one's own sin becomes apparent. This struggle leaves a believer in a self-condemning position throughout life. If we minimize depravity, we minimize Christ. The more one becomes critical of self, the less he is critical of others.
- A sincere sorrow of heart over sin: This sorrow includes tears of repentance. This is a relational sorrow – sorrow not for the consequences of sin, but for provoking and offending God. There are also tears of compassion for others, weeping for lost souls. A sincere sorrow, in addition, includes tears of jealousy – sorrow when God is robbed of His glory and honor.
- 3. A sincere joy of heart in God, through Christ: This includes a sincere joy in God Himself loving Him as He is, a joy in what God does, a joy of discovering Christ in the Word of God, a joy in fellowship with other believers, and a joy in service.
- 4. A sincere delight in doing good works: Good works done out of true faith bring glory to God. A believer joys in serving and honoring God.

8.	Paul urges the Corinthians to not be "unequally
	together with unbelievers."
9.	Paul then argues "what
	hath righteousness
	with unrighteousness?" What does light have with darkness? "What hath Christ
	with Relial?"

Many embrace a false or counterfeit conversion. Note the following counterfeit conversions with a Biblical example.

- 1. Hypocritical Conversion (Judas)
- 2. Fruitless Conversion (10 virgins)
- 3. Good Works Conversion (Saul)
- 4. Reformation Conversion (Saul another heart)
- 5. External Conversion (Ahab)
- 6. Emotional Conversion (Esau)
- 7. Afflicted Conversion (Pharaoh)
- 8. Impressionist Conversion (Simon the sorcerer)
- 9. Temporary Conversion (Lot's wife)
- 10. Preacher Conversion (Demas)

Also: legalistic, holier than thou, lip conversions, sick bed, funeral, providence, self-centered, shallow

Meditation: Continual Repentance

O GOD of GRACE,

Thou hast imputed my sin to my substitute, and hast imputed His righteousness to my soul, clothing me with a bridegroom's robe, decking me with jewels of holiness.

But in my Christian walk I am still in rags;

my best prayers are stained with sin;

my penitential tears are so much impurity;

my confessions of wrong are so many aggravations of sin;

my receiving the Spirit it tinctured with selfishness.

I need to repent of my repentance;

I need my tears to be washed;

I have no robe to bring to cover my sins,

no loom to weave my own righteousness;

I am always standing clothed in filthy garments,

and by grace am always receiving change of raiment,

for Thou dost always justify the ungodly;

I am always going into the far country,

and always returning home as a prodigal,

always saying, Father, forgive me,

and Thou art always bringing forth the best robe.

Every morning let me wear it,

every evening return in it,

go out to the day's work in it,

be married in it,

be wound in death in it.

stand before the great white throne in it,

enter heaven in it shining as the sun.

Grant me never to lose sight of the exceeding sinfulness of sin,

the exceeding righteousness of salvation,

the exceeding glory of Christ,

the exceeding beauty of holiness,

the exceeding wonder of grace.
